CLOSE CALL . . . Hazard Firemen didn't have far to go when the alarm sounded last Thursday afternoon at this East Main automatic coin laundry. It's located right next to the fire station. Quickly quelled were the flames but the stubborn smoke refused to stop billowing. Firemen and volunteers continued trying to get at the source of the trouble, from either top or bottom, nearly three hours. The maze of water hoses, shown in foreground, assisted in tying up traffic during the busy going-home hours of 3 to 6 p.m. Damage was limited to the ground floor, except for smoke, and no estimate was available according to Chief Lawrence Sizemore. The laundromat was put out of operation.

Boat Club Gets 3 New Members

The Buckhorn Boat and Ski Club accepted three new members at the January meeting at the Power Company auditorium. They are Vernon Cooper, Hoover Haynes and I. H. Buchanan, Jr. The club's vice-commander, Clyman Shelton, presided in the absence of Commodore John L. Ray, who was at Buckhorn Lake supervising the clearing of the club's property near the lodge site about three miles above the dam.

The club will give a "sweater swing" for the youngsters Friday, 7:30 to 10 p. m. at the Pet Dairy Recreation room. Committee in charge includes Bud Combs, Mrs. Margaret Davis, Mrs. Bernice Combs and Mr. Juanita Ray.

The Buckhorn Lodge construction is well along. Bud Combs reported to the club. The roof is on and the partitions are up, he said. Opening is set for the latter part of May. The club's two-acre property is being seeded, mostly in fescue.

Commissioner Taking '64 List Of Taxpayers

Perry County Tax Commissioner Roy Johnson said today he is taking property tax lists for 1964. Real estate, tangible and intangible property should be listed before March 1, 1964. Johnson stressed the importance of listing intangible property such as stocks, bonds, notes, accounts receivable, cash in banks and life insurance benefits.

Weather Box

Most weather prognosticators are waiting for the heralded approach of the Ground Hog on February 2, before rendering any new predictions about prospects for spring. But while they contemplate their last fall's perusal of how many rings were on the wooly worm to accurately predict the snows to date and snows yet to come are the bluebirds whistle, the weatherman boldly declares that it's going to be colder to night and tomorrow. The weekend was filled with sunshine and gusty winds. Tonight's low is expected to be in the twenties, high tomorrow, in the forties.

The highest genius is willingness and ability to do hard work.

Violin Concert Tickets On Sale

When Dave Rubinoff appears in popular concert in Hazard at the Memorial Gymnasium on February 13, 1964, he will perform a violin solo the full scores of Chopin's Polonaise, and the Warsaw Concerto, and Rhapsody in Blue. The American public has grown to love these numbers arranged for piano and orchestra, but Rubinoff feels they lend themselves to violin equally as well.

A graduate of the Royal Conservatory in Warsaw, Poland, Rubinoff knew as a child the martial feeling inspired by the immortal Polonaise. Even with freedom today confronted with tyranny and treachery as Chopin knew it, the opus is appropriate as a current theme of the times. The Polonaise was written by Chopin with a burning spirit of national sympathy and has been likened to "Cannons Buried in Flowers". You may purchase tickets at thy and Beth, of Campton; his your local Drug Stores in Hazard and hear these premiere Roy, of Hazard.

This program is being sponsored by the Lions Club in Fire Department. A Campton Hazard. Proceeds are to go for Sight Conservation.

800,000 Is Our Goal: The Tree Speaks

I am the heat of your hearth on the cold winter nights, the friendly shade screening you from the summer sun, and my fruits are refreshing draughts quenching your thirst as you journey on . . . I am the beam that holds your house, the board of your table, the bed on which you lie, and the timber which builds your boat . . . I am the handle of your hoe, the door of your homestead, the wood of your cradle, and the shell of your coffin . . . I am the bread of kindness and the flower of beauty.

The tree planting goal for Perry County is 800,000 seedlings to be planted this spring. Farmers and landowners are urged to sign up for their tree seedlings now. The ASCS Farm Office will cost-share $16.00 per acre for planting trees. Any of the agriculture agencies will assist you in ordering your trees, Rebecca Maggard, ASCS Farm Office, Charles Prather, Division of Forestry, Clay Ratliff, Soil Conservation Service and Paul Keen, County Agent.

British-born John Murrell, 74, Buried at London After Rites Here

Funeral rites were said here today for British born John Murrell, 74-year-old and a long time resident of Hazard. A retired U. S. Bureau of Mines employee, he died Friday, Jan. 24, at Mount Mary Hospital after a long illness.

A native of Wingate, England, Mr. Murrell came to the United States in 1913, and had lived in Hazard since 1940. He was a veteran of World War I, a 32nd degree Mason, and a member of the Church of England.

Before retiring at age 65, he worked as safety engineer at Harvettown and was an explosives investigator for the federal Bureau of Mines.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Marie Murrell, Oakhurst Avenue, Hazard; a son — Ott of Cincinnati; three daughters — Mrs. Robert Bagwell, Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. Sid Combs, London, and Mrs. E. L. Adams, Hazard.

Also surviving are four grandchildren; one brother, James Murrell of Lavette, Colo., 24 nieces and nephews.

Services were conducted at 10 a.m., at Bowman Memorial Methodist Church with the Rev. Leslie M. Rogers, pastor, officiating. After the funeral, the body was taken to London for burial in the Dyché Memorial Cemetery. Johnson Funeral was in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Dan Combs, E. L. Adams, Bill, Combs, Bob Bagwell, Herb Charles and David Begley.

Earl Combs, Vicco, Named to Serve On Local Board

Earl H. Combs, Vicco, has been appointed by the President of the United States to serve as a member of Selective Service Local Board No. 81 located in the Boggs Building, High Street in Hazard.

The new appointee, a well-known Perry County merchant, is general manager of Martin's Department Store at Vicco.

Other members of the local board are:

Jesse E. Eversole, Chavies; Bernard Faulkner, Maple St.; Samuel W. Francis, D. D., Eversole Street; Monte Jack Gross, D. M. D., High Street; Mervin K. Eblen, Woodland Park, is the Appeal Agent; Cooley L. Combs, M. D., Woodland Park, is the Medical Advisor; and the local board clerk is Mrs. Juanita R. Sheegog; assistant clerk Mrs. Janet B. Moore.

Each boy becoming eighteen years of age and living in Perry County should visit the local board and register within five days after reaching his eighteenth birthday. The clerk at that time will inform him of his obligation under the present Selective Service Law.

The entire United States and its possessions is served by 4,000 local boards located in each County or similar subdivision. More than 40,000 citizens contribute their services without pay as members of these local boards and in various capacities as advisors to the local boards and to the registrants. Kentucky has 136 local boards with approximately 1,000 uncompensated members and advisors.

One of the most important aspects of the Selective Service System in being today is its capacity for rapid expansion in time of emergency. The Selective Service System is the only agency with an inventory of manpower, and in event of disaster or catastrophe it is the only agency organized in each of the communities throughout the United States capable of expanding its present functions and assuming necessary additional responsibilities in connection with the mobilization of manpower, not only for the military, but for all civilian activities, including Civil Defense.

Court Considers 'Y' To House Offices During Construction

Perry County is house-hunting. The Fiscal Court at a session Friday afternoon discussed possible space to house key offices while the old courthouse is being demolished and a new one built.

A prospect was the Lincoln Hotel on North Main, (better known as the old Y. M. C. A.) offices, under tentative plans, of Sheriff Charlie Combs, County Clerk Jessie Horn, Tax Commissioner Roy Johnson and Circuit Court Clerk Grace Holliday Strong.

County Judge Babe Noplis said it is desirable to place these offices close together for their own convenience as well as that of the public. Richard Johnson, co-owner of the Lincoln, attended the fiscal court meeting to discuss with the session the county's needs and to determine how much renovation would be necessary to accommodate the county's business.

It was suggested that Circuit Judge Don Ward, County Judge Noplis, County Attorney Manis, and Commonwealth's Attorney Tolbert Combs might prefer to operate from their private downtown offices.

Court at City Hall
Judge Noplis said he would negotiate with Mayor Dawkins, and the City Commission for use of the City Hall for sittings of county and circuit court.

Apparently the city is prepared to offer use of its auditorium for the county. The commission Thursday authorized expenditure by City Manis, Mayor Calloway Colwell of around $800 for renovation of the auditorium.

City Police To Move
The City Police Department, which is on the courthouse property, probably will move to the Chamber of Commerce structure on Memorial Drive if it is available.

The Lincoln Hotel was built in 1921 by the L. & N. Railroad as a YMCA. It is of stone and brick construction, with concrete and marble floors and is

IRS Men to Aid Local Tax Filers

The dates that people in this area will be assisted are February 4 and 5, and April 7 and 8, 1964, from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m., announced G. C. Hooks, District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Louisville.

Viper People Opposing Site Appeal to Court

The controversy over the new Viper school site echoed again Friday in Fiscal Court. A delegation of patrons from the Viper area appeared to protest the choice of the site on the left fork of Masons Creek.

The Board of Education and the State Department of Education have approved the site.

County Judge Noplis pointed out that the Fiscal Court has no part in the procedure thus far, and its only role was accepting bids for the construction of the new building. The old school below the highway at Viper was destroyed by fire about a year ago.

Viper School Bids Asked By Feb. 21

Perry County Fiscal Court began advertising today for bids to construct a new Viper Elementary School building on the left hand fork of Mason's Creek. The bids will be opened February 21, at 1:30 by the Court. Plans are available locally at the office of H. A. Spalding, Engineer-Architect. The advertisement appears today on page 4.

Also on page 4, the Fiscal Court advertises for materials for a metal two-room temporary addition to the Buckhorn Elementary School at Buckhorn. Plans are available locally at the same office. Opening date will be February 21.

FHA Worker Pleased With Results of Crash Aid

The crash program of rehabilitation of the homes of the people deep in the Eastern Kentucky mountains is under way and going well.

That is the feeling of Raymond J. Hogue, of the Farmers Home Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture.

He is concerned with Perry, Knott and Letcher Counties in the immediate program for using grants and loans for bringing about better living for our mountain people.

He is working here with Jesse Johnson and James H. Jordan.

The project involves 41

Eastern Kentucky Counties classed as a depressed area. "I may agree that people may find themselves helpless," said Ray Hogue, "but I never will agree that people are hopeless."

"Oh, I am familiar with the attitude that 'you can't do anything for people who won't do anything for themselves'," he went on.

"I am sure that if you give them an ambition, and an incentive, then show them how to go about it — they will respond."

Hogue was asked if he had found an attitude of skepticism among our mountain people. (He is a western Kentuckian who had never been in the mountains.)

It was pointed out to him that all sorts of projects have been proffered in efforts to solve the problems of the mountain people. That projects "look real good" in Washington and Frankfurt, but when they get down to the country level, they bog down before they get to "the head of the holler," where the need for his is greatest.

"Perhaps a hint of doubt, of skepticism," Ray Hogue replied. "In three or four visits this week to homes, I was greeted with a remark that 'I didn't expect you so soon.' Perhaps they have so often before been offered some sort of help — and nothing happened. That is understandable.

"That is why I personally, and I am sure Jesse Johnson and Jim Jordan and Chris Wells, and whatever help we can get, will regard this as an emergency action, a 'crash program,' one of a dozen for Eastern Kentucky ordered that morning in mid-November by John Kennedy, and ordered carried out by President Johnson.

"Now that I have met these better-off, who are well-fixed, people, I don't mind how hard I work for them," his gray eyes became a bit reflective. "You know, my wife wrote a letter which indicates she has some interest, some appreciation, of what I am about. That helps." He lifted his graying middle-aged head, a little proudly.

"These people may be uneducated, they may be reserved, but the basic soundness of character still is there.

"They express their appreciation of important necessary vital things with dignity. I fear the people who are have become a little selfishly cynical about the unprivileged. Again Ray Hogue paused. "The old saying 'about ignoring sin and maybe it'll go away just doesn't work."

"The people who are illiterate and old and poor and helpless — are still people. They still are our responsibility. 'Whether we like it or not — we are our brother's keeper.'"

"When we deny that — when we refuse the responsibility — we are in chaos. They may perish — but we perish with them."

Family Boasts Five Generations

A 92-year-old great-great-grandmother is the star of this cast of a five-generation family. She is Mrs. Emma Stamper (left). Beside her are Mrs. Lillie Nickell, great-grandmother Alonzo Nickell, grandfather; Billy George Nickell and his daughter, Karen Maria Nickell, who is so unimpressed with it all that she is yawning.

All reside at Combs except Billy George, who teaches in the Murfreesboro, Tenn., school system. His father, Alonzo, works for Home Office Supply.

The matriarch was Emma Sebastian and lived for 77 years at Cannel City in Morgan County. She is the widow of W. T. Stamper a Cannel City mine foreman for many years, who died in 1950.

by The Journalism Class, Hazard High School

Snow brought a few days of winter vacation for HHS on Jan. 13 and 14. Exams were postponed for three days as 8 inches of snow fell during the two-day period. The second semester, originally planned to begin Jan. 21, did not get underway until Jan. 24.

Faculty Changes

Changes mark the turn of the new semester. There have been several replacements made in the faculty: Miss Sharon Jackson, from Harlan, will assume Mrs. Mary Belle Duff's job as Home Economics teacher; Mrs. Betty Morton, government and science instructor, has turned her classes over to Mrs. Belvin Ewen, and Mrs. Claude Baumgardner now teaches all the government classes.

Curriculum changes include a one-half credit course in sociology, and there are several new classes in mathematics and algebra, including trigonometry.

2 Seniors Earn Honor

Two senior boys have brought honor and scholastic recognition to Hazard High School and the community around us. Pete Gullett and Dean Tayloe were recognized for their scores on the National Merit Scholarship Quilting Tests which they had last spring, as juniors. Both took the S.A.T. (Scholastic Aptitude Test) this fall, and have not yet been notified of their scores. They have a chance to win four-year college scholarships at any schools of their choice, and they are the only two Perry County seniors to qualify.

Plans Medical Career

"Girls are indispensable members of society," said Asa Pie, Gullett III ("Pete") in an interview with the journalism class. When asked about his feeling on the subject of his home town, he said he would like to return to Hazard after he completes his medical education. He hopes to be a doctor, and says of Hazard, "It is the most wonderful place there is." Pete plans to attend Centre College, at Danville.

The son of Dr. and Mrs. A.P. Gullett of Cedar Street, Pete has one brother, James Norman, a freshman at Hazard High. Dr. Gullett is an optometrist with an office on Main Street.

Pete is president of the Beta Club, a member of Debate, Science, and Masque & Gavel clubs; is vice-moderator of the Youth Group of First Presbyterian Church; is an Eagle Scout with a gold palm and a chief of the Chippawa chapter, Tomahawk Lodge, Order of the Arrow.

"It is impossible to watch TV and study at the same time," he told the students who asked him his advice on studying. He has lived in Hazard all his life.

Leans To Engineering

Paul Dean Tayloe, Jr. says that he is able to study "no matter what else is going on around him." "Dean," as he is better known, took SAT tests in November for the final selection.

Dean has one younger brother, Dan, eleven years old. The boys and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Tayloe, live on Baker Avenue. Their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Tayloe, Sr., are also life-long residents of Hazard.

Dean plans to enter the Air Force Academy and wants to study engineering. During high school, he has been a member of the Debate Club, Science Club, and Masque & Gavel. This is the eighth year Dean has been a member of the band, playing trumpet, and he has also been a regular member of the Mixed Chorus.

Among his hobbies are bowling, music, golf, and flying. He is working toward his pilot's license with the help of his father, who operates a flying service. During Thanksgiving vacation, Dean and his family visited his uncle, Col. L. T. Tayloe, Jr., and members of his family in Puerto Rico. They flew down to Ramey Air Force Base and enjoyed swimming and the tropical weather.

Janie Talks Cooking

Senior Home Ec. student Janie Combs gives Hill Talk readers her favorite recipe. Says Janie, "If you're looking for a real delicious dessert just follow the instructions for great eating and enjoyment."

Ingredients: Pastry for 9 "two-crust pie—

2 lb. cans sour pitted red cherries
1-2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1-2 cup sugar
2t quick-cooking tapioca
1-4 t. almond extract
1 t. butter
Drain cherries and reserve 1-2 cup of the liquid. Mix cherries, the 1-2 cup liquid, sugars, tapioca and almond extract. Let stand 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Line pie plate with pastry, allowing 1-2" overhead. Pour in cherry mixture.

Dot with butter. Roll remaining pastry into a rectangle, cut into half inch strips and form a lattice-top crust. Turn edge back onto edge of pan and press lightly with a floured fork. Bake in a very hot oven, 425 degrees F. 35-40 minutes or until crust is golden and pie is bubbly.

No Comment—Mrs. Ewen

"No comment. I think it's too soon," said Mrs. Belvin Ewen, when Patti Campbell asked her how she liked Hazard High School. Mrs. Ewen is a regular teacher, replacing Mrs. Bill Morton.

Mrs. Ewen was born in Martin, Kentucky, where she attended high school and grade school. She attended the University of Kentucky, where she met her husband, Belvin Ewen, who is employed as engineer for Spalding Engineers. The Ewens, who live on Sun Valley Terrace, have two small children, Katie, 2, and Mary, 6 months.

Mrs. Ewen formerly taught Biology and Speech at Franklin County High School.

Separate Foods To Check-Out USDA Urges Stamp Users

PRESTONBURG — The U. S. Department of Agriculture urges food stamp program participants to separate eligible foods when paying for the food at grocery store check-out counters.

This will help authorized grocers serve their food stamp customers faster and better, says USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, which this week distributed posters to local food stores that emphasize separating eligible foods from the ineligible.

"Our purpose is to continually promote awareness of the foods which are eligible for food coupon purchases," said Carl R. Horn, representative of the Agricultural Marketing Service's Food Distribution Division supervising the food stamp program in Floyd, Knott, and Perry counties.

"The food stamp program has been operating successfully in this area for sometime—from nearly a year in Perry County to more than two and a half years in Floyd County. The excellent cooperation of the participating grocers and food coupon recipients in the program is largely responsible for this success."

Grocers are not authorized to give change in cash for items purchased with food stamp coupons. Due bills may be issued, but not for more than 40 cents.

TOPS IN COLORING... Cash prizes for the best entries in The Hazard Herald's Christmas coloring contest were presented by the newspaper owners, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Nolan. The celebrity wearing dark glasses is Mrs. Nolan, business manager of The Herald, awarding first prize of $10 to Myrtle Anna Mullins, 11 year old and a 6th grade student at Dennis Wooton Elementary School, Airport Gardens. Mr. Nolan, editor-publisher, seems happy indeed to give the $5 second place award to Betty Lou Wooton, 11-year-old 6th grader at Lothair Elementary School. The contest was a promotion of The Herald's Christmas edition. Entrants were asked to color any full page of their own choosing. The entire issue was filled with Christmas greeting advertisements. Myrtle Anna's coloring of a full page Watson's ad was judged tops. Betty Lou's prize winner was a page featuring ads for Agnes Wills House of Fashion, Citizens State Bank, Hazard Insurance and the Credit Bureau. A similar contest is planned for next year.

Relief Of A Region

Editorial Reprinted From The Courier-Journal:

THE OLD ADAGE that charity should begin at home is finding welcome application in the stricken areas of South-eastern Kentucky.

This mountain region is rated as one of the most economically depressed sections of the nation, yet only in recent months has it been given the consideration frequently lavished on needy overseas countries.

It was a heartening sight when Eastern college students went to the vicinity of Hazard to share Christmas with impoverished families of unemployed miners. Meanwhile, the government is going into long-needed action, providing $8.7 million for vocational training and stepping up other assistance programs. The late President Kennedy had planned to visit the stricken region, and President Johnson has seemingly ordered full speed ahead on Federal action. Gov. Edward Breathitt has promised full state assistance.

The inhabitants of this mountain-locked section have experienced a series of disasters. Isolation and lack of adequate school facilities have tended to stunt ambition and initiative over a period of years. Many of the more enterprising young have left the region simply because of its dearth of opportunity.

The coal industry has weighed heavily upon the fortunes of the area also. There were many contradictory influences stemming from the black wealth underground. John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers were a powerful element in obtaining higher pay and better working conditions for the miners. Mr. Lewis did not try to obstruct progress by insisting upon a continuation of old style pick and shovel mining. Highly mechanized coal-mining equipment came into the field. But meanwhile coal was at a competitive disadvantage with gas for home heating. The welfare funds of the UMW began to run out.

I.A.W.S. President Ann Combs Prepares for Company at UK

It was recently announced that the University of Kentucky will be the site for the 1964 annual Region Three Intercollegiate Associations of Women Students Convention. The University was selected by popular vote of the delegates at the 1963 Convention held at the University of Kansas. This meeting will take place on the Lexington campus from March 15 thru 18 during the University's scheduled spring vacation.

Already, plans for the convention are well under way, the first step being the selection of a steering committee. This committee, which was carefully selected from outstanding women students at the University, consists of ten members. Supervising the entire convention is Chairman Donna Wilcox from Louisville.

Advising the committee are Ann Combs of Hazard, President of the University Association of Women Students, and Sandy Brock, Vice President, from Newburgh, Indiana, and Ann Harris, Assistant Dean of Women. Ann Combs is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Cooley L. Combs, Hazard.

At present the committee is expecting an attendance of approximately three hundred delegates from various member and non-member colleges in the southeastern area of the United States.

Tentatively, the activities for the four-day convention will include a stimulating program including nationally known and local figures, horse farm tours, local entertainment, and a banquet to name a few. Also, there will be hash sessions for the delegates to become better acquainted, discuss ideas and exchange viewpoints. Business meetings will occupy most of their time during the day.

Being selected host school for the convention is quite an honor for the University of Kentucky, for both I.A.W.S. and its convention have experienced a lengthy history of success as being a stimulating experience. I.A.W.S. is a service group dedicated to cultivating an attitude preparing women to govern themselves throughout their college careers, and thereby increasing their ability and desire to fulfill the role of educated and competent women in a democratic society to the highest degree of social, physical, intellectual, and spiritual achievement.

Fresh Corn in Winter - From Florida

Fresh corn on the cob in the winter! A few short years ago this would have seemed impossible. Now, sweet corn in the husk is shipped from Florida fields while snow still covers much of the nation. Jet fast cooling methods, used within minutes after picking, keep this corn tender and sweet though it may travel long distances to market.

FRESH TIPS ON FRESH CORN

IN FOIL: Place each ear of corn on a square of aluminum foil. Top with 1/4-inch slice butter or margarine. Wrap securely by making a double lengthwise fold on top of the ears. Turn ends up and fold smooth against the corn. Bake 20 to 25 minutes or until tender in a preheated hot oven (400° F) or over the grill, turning to cook uniformly. To serve, open the foil and turn back, crimping it to make attractive.

ROASTED CORN IN HUSK: Loosen husk on ears of fresh corn only enough to remove silks. Pull husks back in place and tie in place with a strip of the husk. Place over grill and cook 20 to 25 minutes, turning to cook uniformly. If desired, cook corn by this method in a moderate oven (350° F). The baking time is the same as for barbecue grill.

CHIVE BUTTER:

1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons chopped chives
1/2 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon ground black pepper

Soften butter or margarine and blend in the remaining ingredients. Serve over hot corn. Yield: 1/4 cup.

CORN BUTTERS: Soften 1 stick (1/2 cup) butter or margarine and blend with either of the following spices: 1/2 to 1 teaspoon chili powder 1 teaspoon curry powder

Lexington, Ky., January 22—The Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs officially endorsed a charitable, non-profit organization established to protect people with hidden medical problems at the KFWC's midwinter board meeting in Lexington today.

Mrs. Adron Doran, President of the KFWC, urged the more than 14,000 members of the Federation to investigate the protection bracelets and necklaces provided by the Medic-Alert Foundation International, Turlock, California.

The bracelets have warning to physicians and passersby of the victim's problem engraved on the back. A part of the safety program of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the use of medic-alert bracelets in Kentucky will be promoted by the KFWC on the local level with aid of the state organization.

Mrs. Doran said local women's clubs in the state plan to work closely with the public school systems and school nurses to purchase and promote the use of the bracelets. "Approximately one member in every family has a hidden medical problem and over 3

Beautification Gains Ground In Eastern Kentucky

By Nevyle Shackelford
Quicksand, Kentucky — For the past three years considerable effort on a state-wide basis has been expended in making and keeping Kentucky beautiful. Of course there is much to be done and tremendous room for improvement, but as an indication of how much progress has been made, horticulturist Robert L. Shepherd of the Eastern Kentucky Resource Development Project, here states that in the 30-county area in which he operates, at least 80 per cent of all home owners are doing their houses. As a matter of something to make their houses and grounds attractive have always had a few bunches of flowers, marigolds, lilacs, jonquils, and shrubs. There is, he said, a general movement toward home beautification which contributes a change of system.

Where once there were flowers only during the early spring and summer months, now many many homes are graced with flower arrangements from early spring until late autumn. More perennials are being put out and yards and lawns are being enhanced in winter with transplanting of various types of evergreens. And something else: More and more people, he said, are turning to native plants — pines, holly, rhododendron, mountain laurel, ferns, and other shrubs and vines.

Nothing makes a more beautiful springtime scene than a homestead decorated with flowering redbud and dogwood, and no vine, no matter how expensive or rare is more appealing to the senses than the wonderfully fragrant wild clematis or, as it is sometimes known, "Virginia Bower." These plants grow in wild profusion almost everywhere. Having fusion almost everywhere in made their homes more attractive, the mountains and in most cases, can be had free for the taking. More and more owners, according to Shepherd, are becoming aware of their attractiveness and are taking them more pronounced.

These native plants have several advantages. They are inexpensive to secure and being already adapted to the region, require minimum skill, care, and attention in the promotion says, more than often the same of growth and flowering. Also improvement takes place in they are exceedingly attractive inside the people themselves.

Hound Dog Rug Hookers Turn to Woolly Bears, Create quite a sensation at UKRADC Luncheon

A surprise treat was offered the Upper Kentucky River Area Development Council meeting at Hindman Settlement School.

Mary Ann Adams of Blackey breezed in — a little late, perhaps as usual — carrying a handcrafted reticule.

The carry-all bag was stuffed with toy fluffy black bears. Turned out the bears are a new product of the Lone Pine Crafts Center, Blackey. Mrs. Adams presented to the Area Council a report from the Center. It was in unique form, as follows:

Jaycees to Seek City Commission OK on Carnival

The City Commission will be asked at its regular meeting Feb. 16 to decide whether the Hazard Junior Chamber of Commerce can sponsor a carnival on the Memorial Drive parking lot this spring.

The annual carnival is the chief money source of the Jaycees and pays most of the cost of the Christmas baskets to the needy each year.

Approval of the carnival was discussed informally by the commission recently. Mayor Dawahare favored co-operation with the Jaycees, and gave some reason:

1. The Junior Chamber does a lot of good with its revenue from the carnival.

2. Under Jaycee sponsorship a clean carnival is assured, fit for the amusement of our children.

3. The city gets $400 for the parking lot and city protection.

4. A carnival is sure to come here. If it is set up in the county, outside the city's control, you may have undesirable features like girlie shows, maybe gambling.

"This, to me, seems highly undesirable," said Mayor Dawahare.

Yearbook Lauds Active Kentucky

Frankfort — Kentucky's economic development program is described as "far-reaching and effective" in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's recently published 1963 yearbook.

"Some states have been carrying on active redevelopment programs with excellent results — Kentucky, North Carolina, and Arkansas are leading examples of far-reaching and effective state development efforts," the yearbook reports.

The annual publication titled "A Place to Live", also salutes The Garden Club of Kentucky, Inc. for co-sponsoring the floral clock and other beautification efforts with the State. The giant timepiece was dedicated in 1961. Funds from the clock pool amounted to $5,721.83 at the end of 1963.

Coins tossed into the floral clock pool enrich the scholarship fund but most of the money goes to recreation equipment for State child-care agencies.

When you choose electric heat, you lower the average cost of every other use you make of electricity!

Why so many of the new homes in this area are heated by economical electricity

... and why so many older homes around here are being converted to electric heat, too!

Electric heating qualifies you for a very low "wholesale" rate, not just for your heating costs, but it also lowers the average cost per unit of all the electricity you use.

Electric heating gives you individual-room control of temperatures; and of course, electric heat is flameless, free from fuel film, clean, wonderfully convenient.

The more electricity you put to use, the less it costs you per unit!

Free booklet gives details

We have prepared a special booklet for those who would like to know more about Total Electric Living. It shows what steps you should take to get low "wholesale" rates. There's a checklist to help you discover how close you may already be to Total Electric Living. You'll read what other homeowners say about their Total Electric homes.

This booklet is called Sooner Than You Think. For your free copy, phone us... stop in at any of our offices... or send the coupon.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain!

Dr. John H. E. (Spinal) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In one after case, while gently pulling pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.
